Acupuncture & Laser Clinic

Acupuncture is a primary healthcare system. Both modern research & ancient history give acupuncture an impressive record for safety & effectiveness.

Laser Acupuncture...

Laser acupuncture is the synthesis of the ancient treasure trove of Acupuncture and phototherapy (therapy with light).

Laser Acupuncture is safe, effective, painless and increases the effects of both acupuncture and phototherapy.

What is Laser Acupuncture?

Laser therapy used in acupuncture is Low level laser therapy (LLLT) that means Low level lasers that are Class 3B and have low energy output as compared to surgical lasers used in the treatment.

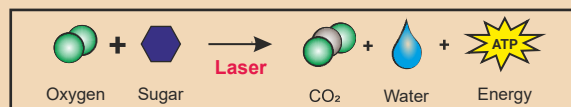

They are also referred as bio-stimulation lasers, soft lasers or healing lasers. This is a intensive light therapy, which uses directed light of defined wavelength and various frequencies to produce positive physiological cell changes and support the organism in its healing process.

How does Laser Therapy works?

Laser light of defined wavelength stimulates the physiological function at the cell level.

The mitochondria are tiny organelles called the "powerhouses" of the cell. Mitochondria are able to absorb laser light which then activates a series of reactions to increase and store more cellular energy in the form of adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

By increasing energy, laser light is able to greatly stimulate the biological function of cells, tissue, and systems and even raise overall vital energy throughout the individual. This is "Bio-stimulation"

When energy is available, the body can heal itself.

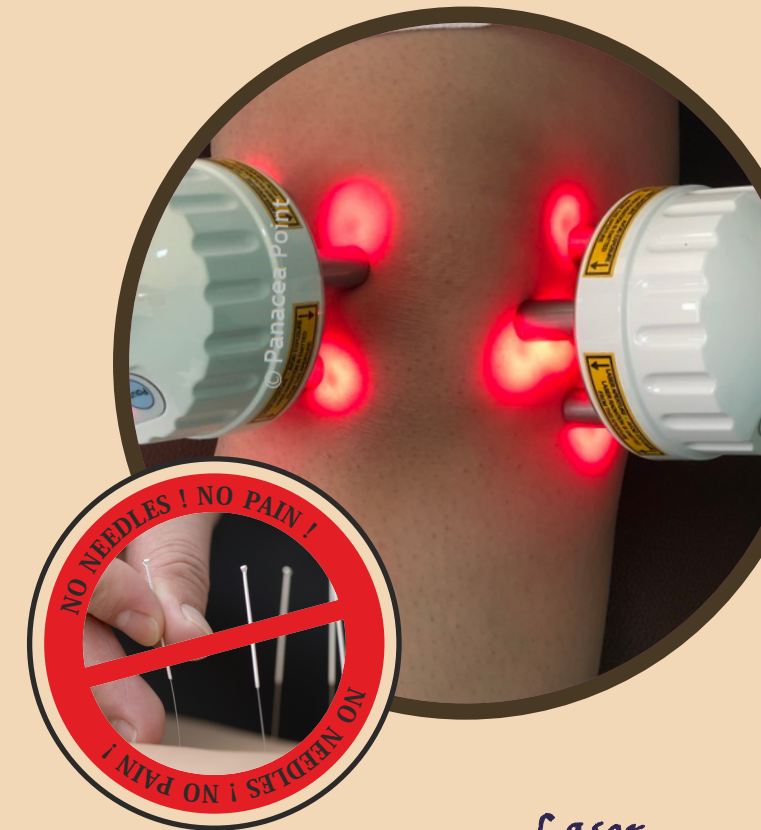

Laser therapy has been shown to stimulate the regeneration of bone, blood, the lining of blood vessels, cartilage, cochlear hair cells, central and peripheral nerve, and muscle. Moreover, it has been documented to enhance the quality of healed tissue.

Advantages of Laser Acupuncture

- ❖ Points which are difficult or painful to treat with needles (mucous membranes, wounds, joints, skin disorders) can be included.
- ❖ Painless and non-invasive therapy (particularly suited for sensitive patients, children etc.).
- ❖ Safe and more effective than classical acupuncture.
- ❖ Effective in chronic conditions
- ❖ It removes toxins works wonderful in body-detox.
- ❖ Can be used to supply therapeutic and diagnostic information (Bio-frequencies), so called "Laser Resonance Therapy".
- ❖ It rejuvenate the skin and relax the muscles.
- ❖ No side effects. It is very safe for all age groups.
- ❖ It works well for removal scars and even heal fractures.
- ❖ The ability of the acupuncture points to respond often decreases in elderly patients. Laser acupuncture has a positive impact on degenerative tissue processes at the neurovascular bundles of acupuncture points.

Physiological effects of Low Level Lasers

- ❖ Reduces Inflammation
- ❖ Relieves Pain
- ❖ Regenerates tissue
- ❖ Promotes Circulation
- ❖ Reduces swelling
